The SECT (Student Educator Course Transcript) reports collect student course-taking information including the educator teaching the class, type of class, marks earned, and other information. Information from this collection will be used in several different ways, including:

- Development of a state-wide student transcript data repository to facilitate the transfer of student information for students transferring between schools in Vermont.
- Development of course-taking patterns as an indicator of how well schools are preparing students for post-secondary success.
- Research on course-taking patterns and student performance.

See the following articles for information about individual extracts:
