The List shows all curriculum for the section. Use folders to organize content.

When you open the list, the highest level of your curriculum hierarchy displays. If you don't use folders to organize your content, you'll just see a list of all assignments and resources, ordered by Start Date.

In the example above, I've organized my items into folders for the books my Lit class is reading, with a Course Syllabus resource at the top to keep it visible to students. I then clicked on the "To Kill a Mockingbird" folder to view the assignments, resources, and other items nested within that folder.

Within a folder, click the black arrow on the left side of the list to expand or collapse the folder list. In the image above, I've expanded the folder list to display next to my assignments and resources.

Numbers display next to assignments to provide more information about their status:

Turned In

The first number, in red, indicates if there are unscored submissions for the assignment. Click this number to view and score student work.

Assigned

The assigned number indicates how many student have been given this assignment and have not turned it in or received a score. Click this number to Individualize the assignment

Scored

The scored number indicates how many students have received a score for this assignment. Click this number to open the scoring editor.

At any point when viewing the list or a piece of curriculum, use the breadcrumbs at the top to navigate up through the hierarchy. In the example below, I've opened an assignment in the To Kill a Mockingbird folder. At the top, I can click the folder name to view it, or the section name to return to the top level curriculum list:

Use the bread crumbs at the top to navigate within your curriculum.

Filtering the List

At the top level of the list, filtering options display along the top to simplify finding curriculum.

The screenshot shows the top of a curriculum list for '1) 3600-4 AP Literature'. At the top right, there are buttons for '+ Add', 'Edit', 'Copy', and 'Close'. Below these is a 'Search Section' input field. Underneath the search bar, it says 'Displaying items in 1) 3600-4 AP Literature'. A filter bar contains tabs for 'All', 'Assignments', 'Discussions', 'Quizzes', and 'Submissions'. Below the filter bar, there are 'Terms' (1, 2, 3, 4) and 'Assignments' filters (All, Unscored (28), Missing). The main list shows items like 'Course Syllabus', 'The Great Gatsby', and 'To Kill a Mockingbird' with their respective start and end dates.

Search within all items in the section using the search bar at the top. This search includes the title and all other content entered for items, including summaries and notes.

Filter the list to show All items, only Assignments (any item with Grading toggled on), or based on the Task aligned to the item: Discussions, Quizzes, and Submissions. Users who receive assignments from a different program also have a filter for Imported items. Use the Term buttons to filter the list to only display items with an End Date in the selected term(s). Finally, use the Assignment filters to display graded items that are Unscored or have any students flagged as Missing.

Edit Mode

Click the Edit button to open edit mode for your current view of the list, whether it be a single assignment, all items in a folder, or everything in your section.

Below is an example of edit mode for all items in a folder:
